Description

Lviv. Downtown

The historic center of Lviv, or Old Town, is the central urban area from which Lviv began its political, economic, and cultural development. This oldest part of the Old Town was listed as a UNESCO World Heritage Site in December 1998.

The main factors in the formation of the ancient Downtown were relief, natural conditions, and hydrology. At the end of the 19th century, because of the glazing of the main waterway of the Poltva River, which in ancient times limited the historical center from the west, the main axis of the modern center was formed - Svobody Avenue.

Defensive walls, which surrounded the City Center with two spindles, were dismantled at the beginning of the 19th century. Since then, new construction has begun along ancient transport routes that radially diverged from the historic center. A modern feature of the Old Town was the pedestrian zone in the medieval quarters between Svobody Avenue and Pidvalna Street, centered on Rynok Square. Around the City Center on ancient defensive ramparts in the XIX century formed a kind of ring of squares.
